

The PDGazette Guide to PDFlix on archive.org

This is a list of favorite or interesting-looking films found in Archive.org's Feature Films collection. If you like science fiction, you'll have to look elsewhere, because I don't think there is very much good sci-fi in the public domain. I do have a link to a Lloyd Bridges film of that genre from 1950, but that's about it. There also isn't much horror here for the same reason. The focus here is on mostly mainstream dramas and comedies. There are several B pictures; these are the ones that looked interesting to me.

All of the illustrations are from Wikipedia; if you really enjoy these movies, I urge you to buy better prints of them. Most are available online via Amazon and Turner Classic Movies. Several of the big-name pictures are in the Criterion collection. These are high-definition, re-mastered versions of these classic films. They may be expensive but they're worth it. Most of them come with extras, such as documentaries, posters, lobby cards, and commentary tracks by experts or even people who worked on the original film.

(Maya Deren) - At Land - Maya Deren and LARMO Northwest.

An interesting experimental film from 1947. A young woman comes out of the ocean and has a series of surreal experiences.

A Christmas Without Snow Korty Films

This is a very nice television movie from 1980. It stars Michael Learned as a newly-divorced woman who moves to San Francisco and joins a church choir rehearsing Handel's Messiah.

A Shriek in the Night M.H. Hoffman Jr.

Rival reporters on the hunt for killer in this 1933 mystery starring Ginger Rogers. Considered a companion piece to The 13th Guest, also available on Archive.

A Star Is Born David O. Selznick

This is the original film about a young woman (Janet Gaynor) who goes to Hollywood to find fame and fortune.

A Study In Scarlet

One of the better Sherlock Holmes movies starring Reginald Owen from 1933, though it has little to do with the original story by Doyle.

Actor's and Sin (1952)

Edward G. Robinson, who squealed to Huac, and Marsha Hunt, who was blacklisted by the same group, ironically star in this two - part drama.

Alfred Hitchcock Trailer Collection Alfred Hitchcock

A comprehensive collection of the master director's best previews, including Rebecca, The Birds, and North by

Algiers Walter Wanger

1938 romance set in the casbah of Algiers. Starring Charles Boyer as Pepe Le Moko and Hedy Lamarr as his beloved.

As You Like It Paul Czinner, Joseph M. Schenck
Laurence Olivier stars in the only public domain version of a Shakespeare play, in 1936.

Back-Room Boy Edward Black

A British radio man (Arthur Askey) is sent to a remote island to set up a weather station. Considered to be British WWII propaganda.

Beat the Devil (1953)

Imperfect and commercially unsuccessful film starring Humphrey Bogart, Peter Lorre, and Gina Lollobrigida, and directed by John Huston from a script he co-wrote with Truman Capote.

Beneath the 12-Mile Reef (1953)

Story about star - crossed lovers in Key West, Florida; one of the first films made in Cinemascope.

Big News Ralph Block
Programmer about the newspaper business. Looked interesting.

Big Trees, The Louis F. Edelman
1952 drama about an obnoxious lumberjack played by Kirk Douglas to the fiery hilt.

Bigamist, The Collier Young
Ida Lupino directed and co stars in this drama about a love triangle that goes seriously wrong.

Blood on the Sun William Cagney
James Cagney stars as a newspaperman in Japan shortly before WWII breaks out. Kind of slow moving but worth the watch.

Borderline Milton H. Bren
Amusing 1950 drama about drug smugglers in Mexico, starring Fred Macmurray and Claire Trevor. You know by the end of their first fight they're going to fall in love but it's worth the ride.

Bulldog Drummond Escapes James P Hogan
The only public domain version which stars Ray Milland as the title character.

Carnival of Souls Herk Harvey
Eerie tale about a young woman who seemingly survives a car accident, moves to larger city, and has a series of nightmarish adventures.

Case of the Frightened Lady
B movie mystery featuring Rachel Kempson and Cathleen Nesbitt; just looked like fun.

Cause for Alarm! Tom Lewis
Loretta Young thriller involving a purloined letter and a psychotic husband, played by Barry Sullivan.

Charade James Mason

1953 trio of short films starring James and Pamela Mason.

Charade Stanley Donen
This may or may not be in the public domain due to copyright issues regarding the music but it has been included in several compilations that are public domain. It is a witty spy story starring Audrey Hepburn as a widow threatened by the hoodlums who were friends of her late husband.

Charlie Chaplin's "The Floorwalker"
Charlie Chaplin's "The Rink"

Two comedy shorts by the popular silent star. I prefer Keaton myself.

Cheers for Miss Bishop Richard A. Rowland
Charming female version of Goodbye Mr. Chips starring Martha Scott as a dedicated small town teacher.

Cottage to Let Edward Black
British spy thriller from 1941, starring John Mills.

Dark Journey Alexander Korda, Victor Saville
WWI-set drama featuring Vivien Leigh as a fashion designer who was also a spy for the British. Possibly based on fact.

David Copperfield Frederick H. Brogger
1969 TV movie based on the Dickens classic.

Detour
Film noir classic B movie about weak man who allows vicious woman to take over his life.

Devil's Cargo
Low budget murder mystery about magician.

Dishonored Lady
Hedy Lamarr stars as a fashion editor blackmailed by a murderer. Not bad for its kind, but don't expect a Hitchcock flick.

Dr. Kildare's Strange Case Max Brand
Lew Ayres stars as the lovable title character involved in shock therapy and romance with Laraine Day.

Dressed To Kill
Another Sherlock Holmes drama, starring Basil

Rathbone. This one involves counterfeit money.

Elephant Boy Alexander Korda
1937 jungle adventure starring Sabu as title character.

Eternally Yours Tay Garnett
Loretta Young romantic comedy, co-starring David Niven as a magician with too many adoring female fans!

Eyes in the Night Jack Chertok
Fred Zinnemann directed this offbeat 1942 murder mystery starring Edward Arnold as a blind detective. A young Donna Reed co-stars.

F. Scott Fitzgerald and 'The Last of the Belles' Titus Productions
Semi autobiographical made for TV tale set in the thirties with flashbacks to WWI south as Fitzgerald deals with his wife Zelda, played by Blythe Danner.

Farewell to Arms Edward A. Blatt
Helen Hayes and Gary Cooper star in this WWI drama based on a Hemingway story.

Father's Little Dividend MGM
Spencer Tracy returns as Liz Taylor's stressed-out dad when he learns his newlywed daughter is pregnant. Directed by Vincente Minnelli.

Fire Over England Erich Pommer, Alexander Korda
Patriotic British drama set during the reign of Queen Elizabeth I, featuring Vivien Leigh as a lady in waiting.

Five 1951
Atmospheric early antinuclear war drama with no-name cast. Directed by famed radio writer, Arch Oboler.

Gaslight British National Films
Said to be much grittier version of the suspense classic, made in England.

Glorifying the American Girl Florenz Ziegfeld
Filmed record of popular Ziegfeld show featuring stars of the late 1920s. A curio.

Go for Broke Dore Schary
Effective document of the heroic efforts of Japanese Americans serving as soldiers in WWII. Van Johnson is great as their initially reluctant leader.

Great Expectations (1946)
David Lean's early masterpiece based on the Dickens novel. This one stars John Mills and Jean Simmons as the star-crossed would-be lovers.

Gung Ho! Walter Wanger
Carlson's Raiders attack on Makin Island in World War II, starring Randolph Scott.

Hats Off
Low budget 1936 musical starring John Payne and Mae Clark as rival PR hacks. Screenwriting debut of Samuel Fuller!

Hay Foot (1942)
WWII service comedy about a soldier with a photographic memory.

He Walked By Night Bryan Foy
Richard Basehart plays a psychotic killer being chased by detective, played by Jack Webb!

Her Uncle Sam
Interesting early pro-socialist comedy starring Robert Young and Barbara Stanwyck. Reportedly, the last few minutes of the movie have been cut off.

High Lonesome George Templeton
Western starring John Drew Barrymore as a drifter framed for murder.

High Voltage Ralph Block
Very minor film of note only for early performances by Carole Lombard and William Boyd, set in snowbound cabin with other survivors of a blizzard.

His Double Life Eddie Dowling
A popular artist goes virtually undercover as a servant;

hilarity ensues.

His Girl Friday

One of the best movies in the public domain is this screwball comedy starring Cary Grant and Rosalind Russell set in the newspaper world.

Hold that Woman

A skip-tracer (James Dunn) unknowingly repossesses radio full of jewels wanted by bad guys.

Hoosier Schoolboy Ken Goldsmith

One of the best Mickey Rooney films features him as title character, a put upon lower class teenager in small town Indiana.

Hoosier Schoolmaster Trem Carr

Sequel to Hoosier Schoolboy is also based on a story by Edward Eggleston. Unfortunately Rooney isn't in this one.

House on Haunted Hill William Castle

Cheap horror movie by cheap horror movie maestro Mr. Castle.

I Cover the Waterfront Edward Small

Minor mystery features Claudette Colbert as the heroine.

I Dream of Jeannie with the Light Brown Hair

Biopic of popular songwriter Stephen Foster. Probably not renewed because of racist depictions of minstrel singers. Recommended mainly for the music.

I Love Trouble

Franchot Tone plays detective Stuart Bailey in an LA murder mystery.

I Thank You Edward Black

British comedy set in the manor house featuring then-popular comedians, one (Arthur Askey) in drag as the maid!

Impact

Brian Donlevy and Ella Raines star as lovers in this murder mystery. Maltin gives it three stars.

In Which We Serve Noel Coward, Anthony Havelock-Allan

British propaganda piece from WWII created by and starring Noel Coward.

Jane Eyre Frederick H. Brogger

Another made for TV movie from 1969 of this classic romantic novel.

George C Scott and Susannah York star.

Jungle Book Alexander Korda

Classic version of this Rudyard Kipling children's story, starring Sabu. Filmed in beautiful color and with Oscar winning special effects.

Kansas City Confidential Edward Small

Film noir about ex soldier who is framed for an armored car robbery.

Kept Husbands William LeBaron

Pre-code sex comedy starring Joel McCrea as one of the title men.

King Solomon's Mines (1937)

Cedric Hardwick plays the famous hero Alan Quatermain in this African adventure, co-starring Paul Robeson and Anna Lee.

La Ciociara (Two Women) Carlo Ponti

Sophia Loren won her Oscar for this tragic tale about a mother and daughter in WW 2 Italy.

Lady of Burlesque Hunt Stromberg
Witty backstage comedy about a showgirl who investigates a murder, starring Barbara Stanwyck possibly at her sexiest.

Last Time I Saw Paris, The Jack Cummings
F. Scott Fitzgerald story set in world war two era Paris, starring Van Johnson and Elizabeth Taylor as the lovers.

Last Woman On Earth
Roger Corman just had to do his own version of the last three people on earth, an anti nuke drama.

Lest We Forget
Short documentary about the horrors of Nazi concentration camps in full color. Not for children below high school age.

Life with Father Robert Buckner, Jack L. Warner
William Powell and Irene Dunne star in this charming, funny story of a middle class family in turn of the 20th century America.

Love Affair Leo McCarey
Original version of this classic love story stars Irene Dunne. Won an Oscar for best director.

Made for Each Other David O. Selznick
Moving love story with comedic elements starring Carole Lombard and James Stewart, covers a couple of years in the rocky marriage of a young couple in New York.

Mambo Robert Rossen
Silvana Mangano stars as a young woman who wants to become a dancer after meeting sexy young Shelley Winters, who plays a chorus girl!

Marie Galante Wilfred R Sheehan
Title heroine is kidnapped and winds up in Panama where she meets Spencer Tracy, who is working undercover for the government.

Maybe I'll Come Home in the Spring Joseph Sargent
Sally Field stars in this early-70's TV movie about hippie girl who returns home after a year on the road with her sleazy older boyfriend, to her uptight parents' house in the suburbs.

Meet Dr. Christian William Stephens
Heartwarming drama about a small town doctor (Jean Hersholt) who raises funds for hospital.

Meet John Doe Frank Capra
Classic film about homeless man who becomes a hero to millions through manipulative politicians and newspapermen. Stars Barbara Stanwyck and Gary Cooper in the leads.

Meet the Boyfriend Colbert Clark
Society girl marries lower-class boy despite her parents objections.

Metropolis (1925 - longer version)
Silent classic set in the not too distant future where mechanization has taken over the world. A little slow and corny, but worth downloading.

Midnight Manhunt
Ann Savage, from Detour, plays a reporter who stumbles on the body of a gangster and fights with her boyfriend, who is also a reporter, about who gets to report the story first.

Million Dollar Weekend
Variation of Brewster's Millions from 1948,. Starring Gene Raymond as a young stockbroker who steals $1,000,000 and becomes a victim of blackmail.

Minesweeper William H. Pine, William C. Thomas
AWOL naval officer returns to service as title character in this world war two drama.

Molly and Me

Monty Woolley stars in this romantic comedy about vaudeville.

Money Madness Sigmund Neufeld

Future Ward Cleaver, Hugh Beaumont, surprisingly plays vicious killer in this minor film noir.

Mr. Imperium Edwin H. Knopf

Mediocre romance starring Lana Turner. She is the only reason to see it because of her classic beauty.

Mr. Robinson Crusoe Douglas Fairbanks

Updating of the castaway classic with Fairbanks in the title role taking on a bet to survive on an island by himself for a period of time.

Murder At The Baskervilles Julius Hagen

Hound of the Baskervilles re-jiggered for the B movie crowd.

Murder in Harlem Oscar Micheaux

Black night - watchman is accused of murdering white girl in basement of the building he works in.

Murder on Flight 502 David Chasman

1974 TV movie has a few recognizable stars, specifically Robert Stack a few years before Airplane! as the pilot.

My Dear Secretary Leo C. Popkin

Kirk Douglas romances Laraine Day, boss to secretary. Definitely not politically correct!

My Favorite Brunette Daniel Dare

Funny mystery comedy starring Bob Hope and Dorothy Lamour. This is the one with Bob's notorious put-down of Democrats.

My Man Godfrey

Spoiled socialite Carole Lombard falls in love with high-minded butler, Godfrey, played by William Powell, who proceeds to teach her and her rich family a much-needed lesson in this classic comedy of social manners.

Nancy Drew Reporter Bryan Foy

The only representation of this popular girls' mystery heroine in the public domain stars Bonita Granville in the lead.

Non-Stop New York

Programmer about a young woman forced to travel on a transatlantic flight to Europe in this murder mystery.

Nothing Sacred David O. Selznick

Carole Lombard and Fredric March star in this satire about the newspaper-business.

Of Human Bondage Pandro S. Berman

The movie that put Bette Davis on the map, as a vulgar waitress involved with a crippled doctor, from Somerset Maugham's semi autobiographical novel.

Old Swimmin' Hole, The

Lighthearted family fare with teenage girl hero, played by Marcia Mae Jones.

Omoo-Omoo the Shark God Leonard S. Picker

1936 filming of the Herman Melville novel.

One Frightened Night Nat Levine

Eccentric millionaire gives away his money to a bunch of strangers instead his greedy family. Unfortunately, murder ensues!

One of Our Aircraft Is Missing John Corfield, Michael

Powell, Emeric Pressburger

World war two drama from England involving downed British bomber.

Only the Valiant William Cagney

Minor Gregory Peck western, where Greg is unfairly held responsible for a popular fellow-soldier's death.

Our Daily Bread King Vidor (uncredited)

Appropriately low-budget look at families struggling through the Depression.

Our Town

Martha Scott and William Holden star in this beautiful, simple play about young love in a small New England village.

Outlaw, The Howard Hughes

Notoriously sleazy western more famous for Jane Russell's figure than anything else.

Panic In The Streets Elia Kazan

Like the current film Contagion, this deals with a deadly illness threatening a major metropolitan area. It stars Richard Widmark as a good guy for change.

Passing of the Third Floor Back

Conrad Veidt stars as a Christ-like figure living in a British boarding house in the mid-thirties.

Pathé Baby 9.5mm short movie about monkeys dressed as humans

Like the title says, it's ...a short film about monkeys dressed up as people. The costumes are very believable in a surrealistic way.

Patterns

Rod Serling story about unethical behavior in a large New York business. Starring Van Heflin and Beatrice Straight.

Penny Serenade Fred Guiol

Cary Grant and Irene Dunne are considering getting a divorce after several years of difficult marriage. Their tale is told in a series of flashbacks via a collection of records Dunne plays.

Philo Vance - The Kennel Murder Case Michael Curtiz

William Powell plays the famous detective in the series' only public domain appearance.

Please Murder Me 1956

Angela Lansbury stars as a woman possibly falsely accused of killing her husband.

Pride and Prejudice (1940)

British production of his Jane Austen story features Laurence Olivier and Greer Garson in the leads.

Private Buckaroo

Service comedy starring Dick Foran as a hapless soldier; co-starring the Andrews Sisters.

Pygmalion Gabriel Pascal

Shaw's play about a pompous linguist (Leslie Howard) and a lower-class flower girl (Wendy Hiller) whom he plans on turning into a lady. A rather fair lady. ;-)

Rain Lewis Milestone

Somerset Maugham short story about a woman of easy virtue –who else but Joan Crawford?-- who becomes the object of desire of a tormented clergyman in the South Seas.

Rembrandt

Charles Laughton stars as the title artist.

Rene Clair's - And Then There Were None René Clair, Leo C. Popkin

Famous Agatha Christie mystery with politically correct American title.

Rhythm in the Clouds Albert E. Levoy

Romantic comedy about a female songwriter looking for that perfect hook.

Road to Bali Daniel Dare

One of the better Hope and Crosby road pictures, and the first in color. Set in the tropics - - and who should pop up but glamorous Dorothy Lamour!

Robin Hood Douglas Fairbanks

Silent screen version of the adventure classic starring the then-king of adventure films. He did most of his stunts himself!

Rock 'N Roll Revue Ben Frye

One of the rockers is Dinah Washington! That alone makes the picture worth seeing.

Rocketship X-M Kurt Neumann, Murray Lerner
1950 science fiction epic starring Lloyd Bridges.

Royal Wedding Arthur Freed

One of the best Fred Astaire musicals is set in England at the time of Queen Elizabeth II's impending marriage. Co-starring Jane Powell as Fred's little sister; he's old enough to be her father!

Sabotage Ivor Montagu and Michael Balcon
Early Alfred Hitchcock thriller starring Sylvia Sidney as naive young wife of a saboteur.

Sanders of the River Alexander Korda
Adventure set in South Africa features Paul Robeson.

Santa Fe Trail

Errol Flynn and Olivia De Havilland are the stars of this western. The only one of their many films together that is in the public domain.

Scarlet Street Fritz Lang, Walter Wanger
Film noir murder mystery is considered a classic of the genre.

Secret Agent

Another early Hitchcock spy thriller based on a Somerset Maugham story. Features a young John Gielgud as the hero, Ashenden.

Sherlock Holmes and the Secret Weapon

Modern retelling of one of the Doyle's Sherlock stories, starring Basil Rathbone.

Sitting on the Moon Nat Levine

Minor musical most notable for support work by Pert Kelton, who later played smart-ass maid Agnes on radio's Magnificent Montague.

St. Benny the Dip Edward J. and Harry Lee Danziger
Damon Runyonesque story of minor league criminals planning a heist dressed as preachers stars Roland Young.

Steamboat Bill Jr. Joseph M. Schenck
Silent comedy classic starring Buster Keaton as a would-be sailor.

Suddenly

Frank Sinatra stars as a vicious criminal who plans on killing the President as his motorcade travels through the small town of Suddenly.

Svengali Archie Mayo

John Barrymore stars as the title villain, a very demanding music teacher.

Swing High, Swing Low Arthur Hornblow Jr.
Carole Lombard stars in this minor romantic comedy.

Ten Minutes to Live Oscar Micheaux
Low budget thriller aimed at black audiences.

Terror By Night Howard Benedict
Basil Rathbone as Sherlock Holmes after jewel thief on London to Edinburgh train.

That Uncertain Feeling Ernst Lubitsch, Sol Lesser
Light romantic comedy starring Merle Oberon as woman whose husband sends her to a shrink to cure a case of the hiccups!

The 39 Steps Gaumont British Picture Corporation
Hitchcock classic spy mystery starring Robert Donat and Madeleine Carroll as soon-to-be lovers.

The Beachcomber Charles Laughton, Erich Pommer
Somerset Maugham short story featuring Laughton as the title character.

The Big Lift (complete) William Perlberg
Set in Berlin near the end of the war; features Montgomery Clift as young soldier.

The Cameraman Buster Keaton
Another classic Keaton comedy, this time set in Hollywood.

The Divorce of Lady X Alexander Korda
Laurence Olivier stars in this British romantic comedy-drama.

The Emperor Jones Gifford Cochran, John Krimsky
Paul Robeson stars as the title hero of Eugene O'Neill's famous play.

The General Joseph M. Schenck
Buster Keaton plays a comedic Civil War coal-stoker on a runaway train.

The Ghost Camera
British thriller involving title object containing picture of murder in progress. Sounds like fun.

The Hitch-Hiker
Ida Lupino directed this film noir classic about the title character, a runaway prisoner who takes two innocent men hostage, forcing them to drive him to Mexico.

The Hoodlum
Of note mainly for cult favorite bad guy Lawrence Tierney in the lead.

The House of Rothschild
Edward G. Robinson stars in this costume drama about famous Jewish family.

The Lady Vanishes
Seemingly benign old lady on a train trip through Europe disappears midway. It's up to her new young friends, including Michael Redgrave, to figure out what's happened to her. One of Hitchcock's best.

The Man on the Eiffel Tower Irving Allen, Franchot Tone
Drama set in postwar Paris, featuring Tone as a medical student paid to murder a man's wealthy aunt.

The Private Life of Don Juan Alexander Korda
Douglas Fairbanks swan song is this romantic adventure from the late 1930s.

The Private Life of Henry VIII (1933)
Charles Laughton plays the corpulent king of England; then-wife Elsa Lanchester plays Anne of Cleves.

The Red House Sol Lesser
Mystery involving two too-curious children and their father, played by Edward G. Robinson.

The Scar Steve Sekely
Paul Henreid stars as a disfigured man in this minor film noir.

The Scarlet Pimpernel Alexander Korda, Grace Blake
Leslie Howard stars as title character who seems to be a silly fop but in reality is a spy for England!

The Secret of Doctor Kildare
The good Dr. Kildare takes on the case of a woman with hysterical blindness.

The Sign Of Four
Arthur Wontner in early Sherlock Holmes picture from 1932.

The Snows of Kilimanjaro Darryl F. Zanuck
Strictly OK filming of Hemingway novel stars Gregory Peck as dying hunter, and Susan Hayward as his loving wife.

The Southerner Robert Hakim, David L. Loew, Samuel Rheiner
Atmospheric drama set on an American farm stars Zachary Scott as a young farmer and Beulah Bondi as his grumpy mama.

The Stars Look Down (1940)
Michael Redgrave stars as small town boy who wins medical scholarship then comes back home and tries to improve it.

The Strange Love of Martha Ivers Lewis Milestone
Barbara Stanwyck is at her coldest as this conniving social climber married to a very weak man, played by Kirk Douglas.

The Stranger Sam Spiegel
Orson Welles plays a Nazi who somehow moves to America and is found out by a suspicious Loretta Young.

The Toll of the Sea (November 26, 1922)
A variation on the Madame Butterfly story set in China. A rare color silent film.

The Woman in Green Universal Pictures
Basil Rathbone stars again a Sherlock Holmes in this pretty good entry in the series.

They Drive by Night
British drama starring Emlyn Williams as an ex-con who returns home to his old girlfriend, only to find she's been murdered, and he sets out to find her killers.

Thirteenth Guest, The

Ginger Rogers stars in this dinner party murder mystery set in a dark old house.

Three Came Home Jean Negulesco

Claudette Colbert stars in this riveting, fact-based WWII Japanese concentration-camp drama. One of her best performances.

Too Late for Tears

A desperate woman, Lizabeth Scott, hangs onto a stolen bag of cash in this film noir mystery from 1949.

Under Capricorn

Mediocre Hitchcock film stars Ingrid Bergman and Joseph Cotten as star crossed lovers in 19th century Australia.

Vengeance Valley Nicholas Nayfack

Burt Lancaster western from 1951 is a variation of the Cain and Abel story.

Whistle Stop Seymour Nebenzal , Philip Yordan

Ava Gardner proves once again that you can't go home again as she returns to title location.

Winterset

Burgess Meredith plays young man determined to clear his father's name.

Wives under Suspicion

Woman in the Dark

Fay Wray stars as runaway mistress of rich man, and ex-con Ralph Bellamy as her savior, based on a Dashiell Hammett story.

Woman on the Run

Murder mystery starring Ann Sheridan and Dennis O'Keefe.

Wrong Road, The Colbert Clark

A young married couple decide to rob the bank where the husband works. They hide the loot, go to jail, then decide to live it up having learned nothing.

Zéro de conduite Jean Vigo

Young boy is trapped in oppressive boarding school and rebels.